NEW YORK, June 20, 1854.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEW YORK HERALD. The police of this city are continually censured for not doing their duty in stopping the throwing of garbage and other filth in the streets, when in fact number of persons have been arrested for the offence by officers of this ward to my knowledge. No longer ago than yesterday one was caught in the act by one of the force, and taken before the sitting magistrate, when he discharged him, and informed the officer it was useless to bother with them. This is but one instance of a number that have taken place in this ward alone. In justice to the force of place in this ward alone. In justice to the force of which I am a member, I would ask what inducement is there for an officer to do his duty, when he is almost certain the offender will be discharged and he (the officer.) in all probability, receive a reprimand for arresting the person.

Another cause of complaint is the freedom allowed to rowdles by the police. This is another error. The police arrest them, the Judge commits them to the island for one, three, or six months, and in less than one week they are discharged. On one occasion we arrested three young pickpockets at a burial that took place from Grove street—the evidence of guilt was found on them; they were ordered to the island for three months, but were discharged before going there. This is done through the influence of some three or four individuals, who lay around the Court daily and live off of what they can grind out of the friends of the parties committed. There lies the evil. Let the public press drive these contemptible paupers away from our Judges, and my word for it, the police will do their duty fearless of the consequences. The names of parties mentioned in this will be given if required, by a member of the police. High Private of the NINTH WARD.

NEW YORK OUTDONE—PATENT SAPE GAME ECLIFACED—As two verdant specimens, on Saturday last, were perambulating the classic grounds near Chepatchet, intent on seeing the country, they were gratified at a small cost with a view of the elephant. Being previously joined by a friendly individual, they were soon accosted by an apparent stranger who held a dog collar in his hand. "Had they seen a black and white dog?—he was anxious to find and collar him—eixteen collars had been applied and successively been stolen from the same canine—here, however, was a collar which would defy the thieves—the lock on it was peculiar—the mechanism known only to himself and the maker." The friendly individual requests the pleasure of examining it. Turning to his companions he readily unfastens it, much to their surprise, and with a sagacious wink closes it carefully and returns it to the owner, declaring the lock to be nothing remarkable. The proprietor, with well feigned wrath, offers to bet twenty dollars it cannot be opened by any one in the crowd. Mr. Verygreen is persuaded to put up his watch against the double X, the friendly companion is chosen stakeholder, when behold! the lock magically loses its aperient quality, and greeny his watch. The matter is to be sifted, as the amiable companion is now in the hands of the law. The proprietor is non set according to last returns.—New Bedford Standard.

Important Arrest of Counterfetters.—Agents Preston and Hitchcock, with the aid of Geo. Donnellan, U.S. District Marshal, succeeded on Friday last in taking three counterfeiters, at Muncie, in this State. They had in their possession at the time they were taken a large amount of bogus and paper money, some of which we learn was excellently executed. The persons taken are citizens of the place; they are Dr. A. L. Robinson, — Sergeant, and — White. The bogus money, we learn, consisted principally of half dollars; the bills were of the deminiation of 5's on the Exchange Bank, Lockport, N. Y., and 10's on the Corning Bank, N. Y. The prisoners were taken before United States Commissions. TERRIBLE TEAGEDY—Two PERSONS MURDERED AND SUICIDE OF THE MURDERER.—The village of Milville, in Blackstone, Mass., was the scene of a terrible tragedy on Saturday night. We learn the following particulars of the affair:—A man named Alexander Hewitt, of intemperate habits, and as is supposed excited by liquor, had a quarrel with his wife, which resulted in her quitting the house from fear of her life. She entered the house of Mr. Orrin Brown, a neighbor and an estimable citizen, and claimed his protection, which he accorded to her, and instantly locked the door to prevent the entrance of her husband, who was in hot pursuit and soon reached the house. He demanded his wife, and Mr. Brown went to the window to speak to him, when Hewitt drew a revolver, with which he had provided himself, and shot him in the head, the ball passing into his forehead and killing him instantly. The wife, Mrs. Hewitt, was in the room at the time, and passed the window in an attempt to sly from the house. As she passed her husband fired at her, but the ball missed its aim. Mrs. Hewitt then attempted to escape by a back door, but just as she reached an embankment of earth, he came up and seized her by the arm. He then held her at arm's length with one arm, drew his revolver, and shot at her twice, one ball passing through the head and the other lodging there. Hewitt then fied to the woods, and remained there over night. On Sunday he left the woods and came back to the scene of the murder, where he was immediately taken into custody by the officers. He stated to them that he was perfectly willing to be taken as he had swallowed a dose of strychnine, and could not possibly live but a few moments. He was shortly afterwards seized with convulsions, and died almost instantaneously. He stated to the officers that the murder of his wife was premeditated from motives of jealonsy, but not that of Mr. Brown; that he went to Providence last week and procured the poiso

SINGULAR DEATH.—Mr. J. H. Morehead, living near Paris, Mo., died, a short time since, under singular circumstances. He arose in the morning apparently in his usual health, and after walking about for a short time, and after partaking of his breakfast, he ordered his negro man to bring a long bench into the house, saying he expected to die soon and wished to be laid out on the same. He then ordered him to fire off a gan as he wanted to see whether he could hear the report. After this, his wife asked him if she should send the negro to work in the field; he replied not, that he was going to die and he wished the negro to stay and help lay him out. He then laid down and expired soon after.

Lord Elgin on Liquors at Public Dinners.—
We learn that Lord Elgin remarked to a gentleman of our city, that there was one feature of the reception given him in Portland with which he was particularly pleased—that of a public dinner without liquors of any kind. This, he added, was the first public dinner of which he ever partook which was strictly a teetotal affair, and from the handsome manner in which this passed off, he was satisfied that for a company called together as that was, it was better to exclude liquors than to admit them—

Resolutions were unanimously adopted by rising, for the repeal of the Fugitive Slave law, the Nebracka law, &c., and also pledging the meeting not to sustain any man for office who is not the avowed supporer of such repeal; and to sustain the representative of that district, Hen Tromas D. Movements of Filibusters—From our exchanges and other sources, we lease that the available funds at the command of the friends of Cuban liberty amount to a little short of one million of dollars, while eight steamers and four sailing vessels have been placed at their disposal, and can be made ready for sailing at twenty-four hours notice. They are also possessors of between eighty thousand and ninety thousand stand of arms, muskets and rifles inclusive; they also have, if we are rightly informed, about ninety field-pieces, including cannon, howitzers, and mortars, and are pretty well supplied with ammunition and side-arms.

The resources have been placed in the hands of a committee, who are to hold it until the time set for the carrying into execution of their project.

The entire command of this expedition will be vested in a gentleman of known ability and skill, and whose name has already become a household word with the citizens of the United States, in consequence of his brilliant achievements and successful manaeuvres while in command of a division of the American army during the late war between the United States and Mexico.

JUNE 20.—Leonora Rohrman vs. John Orser,

the plaintiff, a German woman, keeping a grocery

For the defendant, Mr. A. R. Dyett contended

DEATH OF AN AGED COLORED MAN.—Bister or Bristol Underwood, a colored man, who had for a great many years resided in the vicinity of Kent's Mills, Pawtucket, Mass., died on Wednesday morning last. His age was not positively known, but is believed to have been upwards of a hundred years. He was a slave in Newport, R. I., previous to the Revolutionary war. He was a man of herculean frame, and retained his physical powers to a remarkable extent until within two or three years of his death.—Pawtucket Gazette.

A HARD STORY.—The Haverhill Gazette is responsible for the following hard story:—During the shower on Thursday afternoon, a tortoise, three inches in length, and weighing two and a half onnees, fell upon the sidewalk near the Universalist Church, on Summer street. It was seen by a lady as it came through the air, and its movements noticed after reaching the ground. The little fellow seemed after reaching the same time rather pleased with his safe arrival on terra firms, and, after taking a hasty observation, began to travel.

FLORIDA STOLEN BONDS.—The forged bonds of the tearitory of Florida, stolen, it is alleged, in 1839, are turning up. Last year one of them was forwarded to Washington, and, the fraud having been forgotten there, was paid with interest, amounting to $2,000. Subsequently two more have been sent, and an investigation ensuing the bonds were found to be of the number stolen, and means are now to be taken to recover the amount already paid, and arrest those who have knowingly engaged in perpetrating the cheat.

It is true that the candidates of the democratic party in this State stand upon a whiskey platform. They are all moral and temperate men, and worthy to stand upon such a platform.

We call attention to the resolutions of the Convention, and sak the candid reader to consider fairly and without prejudice the position assumed by the convention, and sak the candid reader to consider fairly and without prejudice the position assumed by the convention, and perhaps he may accord with the views expressed in the resolutions.

We copy them again, as we are sure they will afford a satisfactory answer to the misrepresentations of our political enemies:—

Rescived, That intemperance is a great moral and social evil, for the restraint and correction of which Logislative interposition is messacry and proper; but that we cannot approve of any plan for the eradication or correction of this evil that must necessarily result in the infliction of greater ones; and that we are therefore opposed to any law upon this subject that will authorize the search for, or seizure, confiscation and destruction of private property.

Reselved, That we regard all political organizations, based upon the single idea of temperance reform, as dangerous to the perpetuity of our republican form of government, by withdrawing the attention of the people from the great political principle upon which its founded; and that we most earnestly appeal to our fellow democrats throughout the state to adhere, in the selection of members in the Legislature, to the practice of choosing such men as will make those great principles of choosing such men as will make those great principles of

THE LIQUOR LAWS.

A number of arrests have been made up in Knox county, of persona who have violated the two temperance laws, the ones affecting selling and drinking. Most of the sellers have closed, but the driakers still keep open! In Holmes county, one man was last week taken up, fined and imprisoned under the drink too-much law; but as he was the nosisest of the Maine law advocates last fall, the people didn't beak their necks in sympathizing with him.—Cincinnati Eng., June 17.

The manufacturers of liquor in this city are making grievous complaints, because of the great falling off in their sales since the passage of the new liquor law. The country dealers in the article refuse to lay in large supplies, as they judge from the "signs of the times" that the capital invested in this trade is poculiarly liable to accidents.—Columbus (Ohio) State Journal.

A temperance State mass meeting is to be held at Jackson, Michigan, on the 20th. The objects of the convention are set forth in the call as follows:—Legal impediments having hinder d the successful operation of the existing law, it is now of indispensable importance that we be vigilant and active to secure the enactment of an effectual prohibitory law, by the next Legislature, which shall be entirely free from any objections. The people of Michigan have already gearned a good name by their glorious vote in favor of the sholition of tippling and drunkenness. But the work must be done over again. If we wish to secure our conquest, we must be up and doing.

Destructive Explosion and Fire.—About nine o'clock yesterday morning a fire—the origin of which is unknown—broke out in the engine room of Cooper & Hewitt's extensive iron turnaces, at Green's Mills, Warren county, near Easton. The building was of brick, with an iron roof, and the woodwork was consumed. About two o'clock this morning eight of the steam boilers, which had, probably, through inattention during the fire, been allowed to remain with little water in them, exploded with a terrific effect. The noise was heard at a great distance, and the buildings were much shattered. The watchman—a man named Wiers—was hurled through the air to a distance of thirty yards, and was found lying across a brick wall, with timbers above him and hot bricks underneath. He was alive at six o'clock this morning, but is now probably dead. Several other persons were injured, but not seriously. The loss is $25,000 to $30,000, and considerable interruption to the operations will take place.—Nevark Advertiser, June 19. DESTRUCTIVE EXPLOSION AND FIRE.-About nine
